PROFILE

I am a versatile electrical engineering graduate with a strong foundation in networking, web development, and cloud computing. My experience spans startups to top-tier firms like Morgan Stanley, delivering solutions from optimized financial models to scalable, containerized applications using modern DevOps practices. Proficient in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, React, Node.js, AWS, Docker, Python, and KDB, I build dynamic, end-to-end solutions. Driven by curiosity and patience, my diverse background across international banking, finance, and global cities like Munich and Montreal enhances my adaptability and problem-solving in high-stakes environments.
